

WAIFF India — Sponsor Outreach Templates

A few things worth confirming before you send these out (based on checking WAIFF's official materials):

WAIFF's own branding is "World AI Film Festival (WAIFF)" — the "international" part is a description of the festival, not part of its actual name. Worth using their exact name so it matches what a sponsor finds if they look WAIFF up.

WAIFF's flagship event is held in Cannes (at the Palais des Festivals) — but it isn't the same thing as "the Cannes Film Festival," which is a separate, unrelated event. The templates below say "held in Cannes" to keep this accurate.

The India Edition date is written as 15th December 2026 — no year was specified, so double-check that's correct before this goes out.

Structure in every version: appreciate → who you are + what WAIFF is → the opportunity → what's in it for them → ask for a call. Fill in the brackets — the rest is ready to send as-is.

Email

Subject: Partnering with WAIFF India — [Company] x World AI Film Festival

Hi [Name],

Hope you're doing well! [One-line specific appreciation — see formulas below.]

I'm Aditya Upadhyay, India Ambassador for the World AI Film Festival (WAIFF) — a global festival built entirely around films, series, and advertising made with AI, with its flagship event held in Cannes. Since its first edition in 2025, WAIFF has grown fast — over 1,500 submissions from 80+ countries in year one alone — and each year, national "Road to Cannes" editions in countries like Japan, Korea, Brazil, and the US send their best AI-made films to compete at the Cannes finale.

We're now launching the India Edition on 15th December 2026, and I'm putting together the founding group of sponsors.

For [Company], this isn't just a logo on a banner — it's early visibility with India's AI and filmmaking community right as it's forming, a direct line into WAIFF's global network, and a seat at the table while this category is still being defined. That kind of positioning is hard to buy once things settle.

I'd love to walk you through the sponsorship tiers and where [Company] fits best — are you free for a quick Google Meet this week?

More on WAIFF: [Canva deck link] · [WAIFF website link]

Best, Aditya Upadhyay India Ambassador, World AI Film Festival (WAIFF)

LinkedIn

Hi [Name], hope you're doing well!

[One-line specific appreciation.]

Quick intro — I'm Aditya Upadhyay, India Ambassador for the World AI Film Festival (WAIFF), a global festival for AI-made cinema with its flagship event in Cannes (1,500+ submissions from 80+ countries in its first year alone). We're launching the India Edition on 15th December 2026, and I'm building the founding sponsor group.

For [Company], it's a chance to get in early with India's AI/film community, plus a direct tie to WAIFF's international network across editions like Japan, Korea, Brazil, and the US.

Open to a quick Google Meet this week to walk you through it?

[Canva deck link]

Aditya Upadhyay India Ambassador, World AI Film Festival

WhatsApp

Hi [Name], hope you're doing well!

[One-line specific appreciation.]

Quick one — I'm Aditya, India Ambassador for the World AI Film Festival (WAIFF), the global AI film festival with its flagship event in Cannes. We're launching the India Edition on 15th Dec 2026 and putting together our founding sponsor group.

Given [Company]'s work in AI, thought this could be a strong fit — early visibility with India's AI/film community plus a tie to a fast-growing global festival. Quick look here: [Canva deck link]

Free for a short call this week to walk through it?

— Aditya

Filling in the appreciation line

This is the one line worth writing fresh each time — specific reads as genuine, generic reads as spam. Quick formulas:

“Been following [Company]'s work on [specific project] — [specific detail] stood out.”

“[Their recent post/launch/talk] on [topic] was a sharp take on where AI’s headed.”

“What you’ve built at [Company] around [specific area] is exactly the kind of thing this festival should have in the room.”

If you want AI-personalized openers

Paste this along with a prospect’s LinkedIn “About” section (text or screenshot) into Gemini, ChatGPT, or Claude, and ask it to write just the opener — not the whole message — so the rest of the pitch stays consistent across every sponsor conversation:

I’m Aditya Upadhyay, India Ambassador for the World AI Film Festival (WAIFF), a global festival for AI-made films, series, and advertising with its flagship event held in Cannes. I’m reaching out to [Name] at [Company] about sponsoring WAIFF’s India Edition on 15th December 2026. Based on the LinkedIn info below, write a warm, specific 2–3 sentence opener that appreciates something concrete about their work — no generic flattery. [Paste LinkedIn info/screenshot here]

All right. So basically, as I have been appointed as the ambassador of WAIFF, and you know all of this, right? And the above prompt is just for the context, what we are doing and everything like that. I have been appointed as India ambassador for World AI International Film Festival, right? And we are thinking — not thinking, we are planning to host an event in India, WAIFF India Edition in 15th December, right? And right now we are reaching out to sponsors and specific people, right? Because we need sponsors. So I need to create a template where I can basically, a template or something like that, which I can send to everybody, just on the above, putting their name and everything like that, right? So I am providing you all the key details that are required, like about me as Aditya Upadhyay, who I am, what I am doing and everything like that. That will make sure sense. Second thing, me being ambassador of World AI International Film Festival. Third thing is World AI International Film Festival's website, their founders and everything like that. So you will understand what is what and what is not. And as an ambassador, I have the power to shape the event because the event is happening. So I'm directly connected with the founder, right? And as an ambassador, I have the power to bring in sponsors for the event. And I am also sharing a Canva link, which you can see and understand what the event and everything is like. So basically, this is what is happening. World AI International Film Festival is an organization that is trying to spread awareness in everything about AI. What happens is, it is already being... it was started in 2025, and what happens before the main event, which happens in Cannes Film Festival, which is in April. Before it, there are editions of WAIFF, like the upcoming Cannes event, Cannes Film Festival event, which is going to happen in April 2027. Before it, we are having World AI International Film Festival's editions in different countries, like India, Beijing, Berlin, Amsterdam, London, Los Angeles. These things are happening, right? Where filmmaking is important. And what happens? What happens is a lot of crowd submits their AI films. A lot of filmmakers and big people from the film industry of specific country come to the event, attend the event, right? And a lot of things happen in the event. So what does the sponsor get? As this is a new era of AI and it is coming, and as this organization is already very big and is already happening all over the globe and already have successfully hosted many events. So it has good connections and it has a good network. So whoever is going to sponsor the event, sponsor whatever part of the event, they are going to get benefits. So there are going to be benefits, something like that. So basically there are editions that are happening before the main Cannes event, right? So it is a very big event. So the edition, next edition, which is going to happen in April 2027, before it there are events already happening in October, November, and it is going to... the event day of WIFF India Edition is going to happen in December. So these are the things, right? So now we are connecting with sponsors, but I need to send them a message, like over LinkedIn, over mail, over everything like that, da da da. What message I should send? Like it should start, like, I am Aditya Upadhyay, the ambassador, official ambassador of India Edition, and we are planning to do this, and talk about World AI International Film Festival. First of all, whatever people we are reaching out, they doesn't know about WIFF and what it is doing. So the message should first greet me as the ambassador, then first pronounce their name, appreciate them, whatever they are doing, then connect them, because we are connecting with strategic people who are already promoting their things in AI or in big things, who sponsor these kind of events, right? So we are reaching out to those people. So the mail or message over LinkedIn should first greet them, appreciate them, right? And do what? And it should do one thing. It should address me as Aditya, the ambassador of this, and talk about World AI International Film Festival, what it is doing, what is happening, what it is doing, and how we are planning India Edition, right? And how we want to include good people, and how we are looking for good sponsors and everything like that, right? So if you want, we can connect and we can chat about this, right? Because it is going to happen in India, and talk about the benefits. Basically we have to talk about the benefits of World AI International Film Festival and show them what visibility and what a sponsor could get. Why does a sponsor sponsor an event? Why does Nvidia sponsor an event? Why does they put money, right? Why does they do it? So that they could, because they are already talking about AI and something like that, so they could be a part of something, and their name could be displayed to people or something like that, right? So this kind of thing matter, right? So you have to think about this. So first talk about the benefits. Talk about— first we have to make them believe that World AI International Film Festival is a very big organization, and they are going to have benefits. They have to see it. They have to understand it. So the message should contain information about that, right? First appreciate them and give their name, and then talk about me as the ambassador of this, and the organization, we have to talk about that. Then after it, as we have talked about the organization and everything like that, what we are going to do? What we are going to do? Then it should position what are the benefits that are going to be given. First they will see. This is how to play with psychology. First you appreciate them, put their name, then put me, a relevant person, then talk about, as you appreciated them, they are happy. Now they are reading the message, because everybody wants to be appreciated. Then they are reading the message, then they are seeing how big and grand the organization is and what it is doing, right? Now what it has done, what it is doing, then what visibility a company is getting, what is happening, etc., etc., etc., right? So they will see first the grand scheme of things. Second, what benefit they are getting. Third, why, what we are looking for. Fourth, make them imagine— no, third make them imagine that they could get a lot of benefit from it, as they are already doing it. Fourth, what we want. And fifth, definitely this is... So whenever you are available, let's connect on Google Meet, right? That's it. This is what we have to send. And at the end, Aditya, ambassador, World AI International Film Festival, right? That's what we have to do. And below it, we will put the website's link, right? So this is what we have to create, right? Now I'm going to, please give me a basic message which I can just copy and paste, and I can put a— I can just change the name of the person, and that message I can just copy and paste. Or I am also providing you the data and everything like that. Analyze it, right? Create a template. I am going to feed it to a large language model like Gemini or something. You must give the large language model all the context about the organization, everything like that, right? So that it could understand the psychology, what I am trying to say, and the message I will just provide. I will provide the screenshot, right? I will provide the screenshot. Screenshot of what? What screenshot are you going to provide? I am going to provide screenshot or data of the relevant person from LinkedIn or whatever, and so that it can have the data and connect the information and present it according to person to person. That's what it is going to do. That's how personalization works. But give me a in general message which I can give to my team, where they can just change the name and send a message. The message should contain everything, but as you don't have much information about the person, so my team will just change the name and everything like that. So the body is going to be same, just the name is going to be changed, right? And below it my name and along with the link which they can see, right? Now we are going to send this kind of message over LinkedIn, send this kind of message over mail, send this kind of message maybe to WhatsApp, right? These are the things. And it should start by hi. How are you doing? I hope you are doing well, or something like that, right? So understand the one and most important thing. What is this? Whatever chat history and whatever this I am providing you, this is the context of what is our goal, what we are doing, right? And what is our company and everything like that. I am providing this information and I have created some specific. This whole above thing is just information for you to analyze, or any other language model, to analyze what is the task, what we are doing, who we are, what is our company, what is our task, what our sponsors, right? So when you know about me, my position, and when you know about my organization, what it has been doing, it is already a solid organization, and a lot of things have been happening, right? Now its India edition is happening. So we are just reaching out and we are needing the sponsors, right? Yeah, so we are needing sponsors and we are reaching out to them via channels. It could be mail, it could be LinkedIn, it could be WhatsApp, right? And I am just providing you. Basically I am giving you all the basic information about my organization because the body is going to be that, right? The templates basic thing is just going to be body, which is not going to change, right? The context about the event, how big the event is, what impact it is creating, who are the leaders. Basically somebody needs to see it with their eyes, the grand scale of the things, like it was founded by Marko Landy, who worked directly with Steve Jobs, right? These names matter because they have done it, right? First leader who started this. Then how big the organization is, right? What impact it is creating, what kind of events like this are creating, right? So that somebody will be able to see the benefit, right? They should be able to see the momentum of this, right? And below this, so whatever screenshot and whatever I will provide to you about that person or that company and about that thing, whatever that is, that will contain information about them. The screenshot or data. First data and everything is about my company, which is going to be the body. That is going to be the template, right? A mail template is going to be different. A LinkedIn template is going to be different. A WhatsApp template is going to be different, right? So you need to understand how LinkedIn, how email, or how WhatsApp works. How should you send a first cold message to somebody. How it should be, right? And the message, this kind of message is containing psychologies. It is playing on few psychologies. First is appreciation. Second is showing the grand scheme of things, making them visualize, right? Third is making them see who they are associating with, right? Everybody wants to associate with big people. Fourth is what benefit it is going, right? So it should be not, and also this message should not sound like AI generated. How does a message sound like AI generated? Like it has em dashes, it has commas, it sounds perfect. It should not, because these people get angry, right? So it is a very simple thing. We are reaching out and connecting with hundreds and hundreds of sponsors across India and across the globe, right? Every big company. Now I have given you all the context about the event, all the context about my company, right? And what we are doing. Now we are just reaching out to sponsors. I have given you the psychology. Now understand this. I am also providing you few documents and a link, Canva link, so that you can understand about my organization. Understand this and put it in the template body, right? Create three different templates: for LinkedIn, for email, for WhatsApp, right? But first understand about the organization, right? If I will only you are going to give me the template and show it on the screen when I will say

LinkedIn. If I say LinkedIn, you will show me the LinkedIn template. And after it, if I say LinkedIn, connection start. So that's when the personalization for LinkedIn will begin. I will then provide you the screenshot or whatever information of a LinkedIn profile. So we will create a message for LinkedIn. When I say Gmail, so I will provide whatever information of that person. So then you will just give me the template for Gmail, and after it, you will, as the information I will provide, you will start creating specific messages for Gmail, right? Like body, structure, everything should be perfect. And at the end of the thing, it should be written, Aditya Upadhyay, Ambassador, World AI International Film Festival. Simple as that. And at the end of the, below it, we will put our website's link, right? Let's do this. I hope you got all the context which you needed. Learn about all the psychology and everything, how to reach out and whatever cold messaging and everything. Learn about this, right? How people reach out to sponsors, what is the psychology they use, how these kind of messages are used, learn about this, and let's do it.

<https://canva.link/dbog9vagafz68e4>

<https://worldaifilmfestival.com/>

Also, as I am sharing this template, this whole prompt, this whole chat to my team, because they will just copy and paste this. So you will have to just, I have just a single team member. You will just have to write: Roshan, from the team of Aditya. Roshan from the team of Ambassador of WIFF, Aditya Upadhyay. Simple, right? Roshan, R-O-S-H-A-N, right? Because he is the team member of ours. So he will. So the footer at the end of the day should be like this.